The residential customer, or any designated third party, has declared inability to pay and is receiving any type of energy assistance, including federal assistance, or is income eligible, as provided in part 7820.1900; or, if appealed, the commission has determined the residential customer is unable to pay. To declare inability, the residential customer must meet the following requirements:

(1) the residential customer expresses willingness to enter into a mutually acceptable payment schedule for the current cold weather months, pursuant to part 7820.2100; and the residential customer was fully paid up or was making reasonably timely payments under a payment schedule as of the billing cycle immediately preceding the start of the current cold weather months; or

7820.1900 NOTICES OF DISCONNECTION, CUSTOMER RIGHTS AND DECLARATIONS, AND ASSISTANCE; APPEAL.

Subpart 1. Notice before disconnection of service. Before disconnecting the service affecting the primary heat source of a residential unit for failure to make payment for the service, the utility shall serve, personally or by first class mail, the following upon the residential customer and any designated third party:

A. a commission-approved notice of proposed disconnection;

B. a commission–approved notice of residential customer rights and possible assistance, which must include:

(1) for each county served by the utility, a list of the names and phone numbers of local energy assistance providers, weatherization providers, conservation providers, and other entities that assist residential customers in reducing energy bills;

(2) an explanation of no–cost and low–cost methods to reduce the consumption of energy, including, for example, instructions to lower thermostat and hot water heater settings, turn off lights and close off rooms not in use, reduce hot water usage, block drafts around doors, cover windows with plastic sheets, replace furnace filters, caulk, apply weather strip, install hot water heater wraps, and similar methods. The explanation must also include, if applicable, a description of utility conservation services that could assist the residential customer in implementing these measures; and

(3) a written explanation of how utility payments will be prorated under the ten percent plan when the residential customer is served by multiple utilities; and

C. a commission–approved, addressed, postage–prepaid form on which a residential customer, or any designated third party, may declare inability to pay or request the ten percent plan. The residential customer shall indicate on the form whether the customer receives any type of energy assistance, including federal assistance, or any type of public assistance that uses household income eligibility of less than 50 percent of the state median income. The residential customer shall provide on the form:

(1) written consent to the utilities' exchange of billing information when the residential customer is served by multiple utilities;

(2) acknowledgment that the residential customer has received, read, and understood the notice served under item B; and

(3) a declaration that the information provided is true and correct.

Subp. 1a. Notice to local energy assistance provider. Upon receipt of a residential customer's declaration of inability to pay or request for the ten percent plan, the utility shall mail the following information to the local energy assistance provider:

A. the name and address of the residential customer;

B. the expiration date of the notice of proposed disconnection and the date of proposed disconnection; and

C. the amount due.

Subp. 1b. Income verification and appeal. If the residential customer does not receive any type of energy assistance, including federal energy assistance, or any type of public assistance that uses household income eligibility of less than 50 percent of the state median income, and the utility does not have information sufficient to determine income eligibility without income verification, the utility shall notify the local energy assistance provider. The local energy assistance provider shall verify to the utility whether the residential customer's household income is less than 50 percent of the state median income within 21 calendar days after the local energy assistance provider receives notification of the need to verify from the utility. The local energy assistance provider shall document its verification and, upon request, provide a copy to the commission. If the local energy assistance provider fails to verify income within 21 days, the utility may determine income eligibility based upon the information available to it.

If the local energy assistance provider or utility determines that the residential customer's household income is equal to or greater than 50 percent of the state median income, the utility shall provide the residential customer and any designated third party with a commission–approved written notice of the right to appeal the local energy assistance provider or utility determination. An appeal must be made within seven working days after the residential customer's receipt of personally served notice, or within ten working days after the utility has deposited first class mail notice in the United States mail. In determining an appeal, the procedures set forth in part 7820.2000 apply. The determination must be based upon 50 percent of the state median income.

The utility shall not disconnect service while an appeal is pending, or until any appeal involving income verification has been determined by the commission. If no appeal is made by the residential customer or designated third party, the utility may disconnect service pursuant to the procedures and requirements of parts 7820.1000 to 7820.1400, 7820.2400, and 7820.2500.

Subp. 2. Disconnecting service after notice. The utility shall not disconnect the service for seven working days after the residential customer's receipt of personally served notice, or for ten working days after the utility has deposited first class mail notice in the United States mail. If the utility has not received a response from the residential customer or any designated third party within the appropriate period, the service may be disconnected, pursuant to parts 7820.1000 to 7820.1400, 7820.2200, 7820.2400 and 7820.2500.

Subp. 3. Appeal of customer's declaration or request. If the local energy assistance provider does not need to verify income or if the utility appeals on other grounds, the utility has 14 working days after receipt of the form from the residential customer to file an appeal. An appeal must be in writing, on forms prescribed by the commission. The utility shall not prevent any residential customer or designated third party from making a declaration or request. If it appeals, a copy of the appeal, and a commission-approved letter explaining that the residential customer may have service terminated, shall be mailed by the utility to the local welfare agency and the local energy assistance provider on the same day as the utility mails its appeal to the commission.

Subpart 1. Determination of appeal. The commission shall determine all appeals of declarations of inability to pay or eligibility for the ten percent plan on an informal basis within 30 calendar days after receipt of the utility's written appeal. The commission shall determine the residential customer's inability to pay or eligibility for the ten percent plan based upon the following: a finding that the residential customer is in compliance with part 7820.1800, and a finding that the residential customer's household income is less than 50 percent of the state median income.

In making its determination, the commission shall consider one or more of the following:

A. documentation of income verification by the local energy assistance provider or the utility, if applicable;

B. documentation that the residential customer is a recipient of any type of energy assistance, including federal energy assistance, or any type of public assistance that uses household income eligibility in an amount less than 50 percent of the state median income;

C. the most recent income tax return(s) filed by members of the residential customer's household;

D. for each employed member of the residential customer's household, either paycheck stubs for the last two months or a written statement from the employer of wages earned during the preceding two months;

H. other documentation which supports the residential customer's declaration of inability to pay.

Subp. 2. Disconnection during 30-day appeal period. The utility shall not disconnect the service until expiration of the 30-day appeal period. If the commission determines that the residential customer is able to pay or if the commission determines that the residential customer is not eligible for the ten percent plan, the utility may disconnect the service, pursuant to parts 7820.1000 to 7820.1400, 7820.2100, 7820.2400, and 7820.2500.

7820.2010 [Repealed, 26 SR 668]

7820.2100 PAYMENT SCHEDULE.

Subpart 1. Creation of the schedule. Every residential customer, without regard to the customer's ability to pay who receives a notice of proposed disconnection during cold weather months, shall have the right to a payment schedule. A designated third party may request and negotiate a payment schedule on behalf of a residential customer. The following guidelines shall apply to payment schedules:

A. the payment schedule may extend from the date of the schedule to the following October 15, or any other period agreed upon by the residential customer and utility;

B. the residential customer may make payments to the utility in installments which need not be equal but may be based on factors such as lump sum payments or additional income reasonably expected to be received by the residential customer during the payment period; and

C. at the termination of the payment schedule, there shall be a true-up to reconcile actual and estimated usage during the schedule period.

It shall not be necessary to establish a payment schedule until the utility has accepted the residential customer's declaration of inability to pay, or the residential customer has refused to sign the declaration of inability to pay, or the commission has determined an appeal of a residential customer declaration of inability to pay.

The utility and residential customer or any designated third party shall attempt in good faith to arrange a payment schedule, which shall take into consideration the residential customer's economic situation and any extenuating circumstances.

Subp. 2. Inability to pay. The residential customer or third party should notify the utility immediately of any circumstances making it impossible for the residential customer to comply with the payment schedule and should propose specific modifications to the payment schedule. Upon receipt of a request for modification of a payment schedule, the utility shall consider changes in the residential customer's consumption pattern, utility rate increases effective since the date of the original schedule, and changes in the residential customer's financial circumstances. A residential customer who has declared inability to pay under part 7820.1800, subpart 1, item A, subitem (1), and who is income eligible, or if appealed, has been determined to be unable to pay, must not be disconnected during cold weather months for failure to make payments under a payment schedule that applies to that period of time.

Subp. 3. Appeals. The utility shall provide the residential customer and any designated third party with a commission-approved written notice of the right to appeal to the commission when the utility and residential customer are unable to agree on the establishment, reasonableness, or modification of a payment schedule, or on the reasonable timeliness of the payments under a payment schedule. Any appeal must be made within seven working days after the residential customer's receipt of personally served notice, or within ten working days after the utility has deposited first class mail notice in the United States mail. In determining an appeal, the procedures set forth in part 7820.2000 apply. The determination must be based upon 50 percent of the state median income.

The utility shall not disconnect service while a payment schedule is pending appeal, or until any appeal involving payment schedules has been determined by the commission. If no appeal is made by the residential customer or designated third party and the residential customer has been determined to have the ability to pay the utility bill pursuant to part 7820.2000, the utility may disconnect service pursuant to the procedures and requirements of parts 7820.1000 to 7820.1400, 7820.2400, and 7820.2500.

7820.2150 TEN PERCENT PAYMENT PLAN APPEALS.

The utility shall not disconnect service while an appeal under this part is pending, or until any appeal under this part has been determined by the commission. If no appeal is made by the residential customer or designated third party and the residential customer has been determined to be ineligible for the ten percent plan pursuant to part 7820.2000, the utility may disconnect service pursuant to parts 7820.1000 to 7820.1400, 7820.2400, and 7820.2500.

7820.2200 DISCONNECTION OF POTENTIALLY UNOCCUPIED UNITS.

Subpart 1. Investigation. Prior to disconnecting any service affecting the primary heat source of any residential unit, when the utility has received no response to the notice of proposed disconnection within ten working days after the utility has deposited first class mail notice in the United States mail, the utility shall investigate whether the unit is occupied or unoccupied, which at a minimum shall include: one visit by the utility to the unit during normal working hours; if personal contact is not made, and there is reason to believe that the unit is occupied, the utility shall make another on–site visit during nonbusiness hours.

Subp. 2. Notice. If contact is made with the residential customer, the utility shall provide the residential customer with the information required by part 7820.1900, subpart 1. If the residential customer declares inability to pay or requests the ten percent plan, parts 7820.1900 and 7820.2000 shall apply. At least seven working days before disconnecting the residential customer, the utility shall notify by telephone and a commission–approved letter the local welfare office and the local energy assistance provider of the proposed disconnection.

If the utility is unable to contact the residential customer, and it reasonably appears from the on–site inspections that the unit is unoccupied, the utility shall provide notice by first class mail to the recorded billing address of the residential customer. Such notice shall include an easy–to–understand explanation of the protections of this rule and the information required by part 7820.1900, subpart 1. If no response has been received by the utility after ten working days after the utility has deposited first class mail notice in the United States mail, the service may be disconnected, pursuant to parts 7820.1000 to 7820.1400, 7820.2400, and 7820.2500.

Subp. 3. Reconnect if later found to be an occupied unit. If, following disconnection, the residential unit is found to be occupied, the utility must reconnect service if the residential customer or designated third party agrees to pay the outstanding balance owed the utility, or agrees to enter a payment schedule with the utility, or asserts rights under parts 7820.1900 and 7820.2000.

7820.2300 RECONNECTION AT BEGINNING OF COLD WEATHER MONTHS.

Subpart 1. Reinstatement of service. The utility shall reinstate service that in any way affects the primary heat source of a residential unit if the service remains disconnected as of October 15 and if the residential customer applies for reinstatement and enters either a reconnection plan or a payment schedule. A residential customer may enter a reconnection plan only if the customer's monthly household income is less than 50 percent of the state median income.

Subp. 2. Reconnection plan. Under a reconnection plan, the residential customer must pay the current utility bills and arrearages in monthly installments during the cold weather months. Each monthly installment must not exceed ten percent of a residential customer's monthly income. The reconnection plan applies only to the cold weather months.

Subp. 3. Appeal of reconnection plan. The utility shall provide the residential customer and any designated third party with a commission-approved written notice of the right to appeal to the commission when the utility and residential customer are unable to agree on the establishment, amount, or reasonable timeliness of the payments under a reconnection plan. Any appeal must be made within seven working days after the residential customer's receipt of personally served notice, or for ten working days after the utility has deposited first class mail notice in the United States mail. In determining an appeal, the procedures set forth in part 7820.2000 apply.

The utility shall not deny service while a reconnection plan is pending appeal, or until any appeal involving reconnection plans has been determined by the commission. If no appeal is made by the residential customer or designated third party, the utility may deny service.

7820.2500 MANNER OF DISCONNECTION.

Service may be disconnected only in conjunction with a personal visit by a representative of the utility to the address where the service is rendered and an attempt to make personal contact with the customer at the address. If the address is a building containing two or more dwelling units, the representative shall make a personal visit to the door of the customer's dwelling unit within the building. If security provisions in the building preclude free access on the part of the representative, the representative shall attempt to gain access to the building from the caretaker, for the purpose of attempting to make personal contact with the customer. The representative of the utility shall at all times be capable of receiving payment, if nonpayment is the cause of the disconnection of service, or the representative shall be able to certify that the cause of disconnection has been remedied by the customer.

7820.2600 RECONNECTION OF SERVICE.

In the event service has been disconnected for valid cause by the utility, the utility may charge a reconnect fee based on the cost of reconnection as stated in the utility's tariff on file with the commission. Notwithstanding the above provision, the utility shall not charge a reconnect fee for disconnection of service pursuant to part 7820.1100, item B.

7820.2700 DISPUTES.

Whenever the customer advises the utility's designated representative prior to the disconnection of service that any part of the billing as rendered or any part of the service is in dispute, the utility shall investigate the dispute promptly, advise customer of investigation and its result, attempt to resolve dispute, and withhold disconnection of service until the investigation is completed and the customer is informed of the findings in writing.

Upon the findings of the utility, the customer must submit payment in full of any bill which is due. If the dispute is not resolved to the satisfaction of the customer, the customer must submit the entire payment and may designate the disputed portion to be placed in escrow to the utility. 7820.2800 ESCROW PAYMENTS FOR DISPUTES.

To submit a payment in escrow, the customer shall make payment of the amount due as shown on the bill through an escrow payment form, clearly marked and provided by the utility.

The escrow payment form must provide space for the customer to explain why the utility's resolution of the dispute is unsatisfactory to the customer. The form must be in three copies, one of which will be retained by the customer. A copy of the escrow payment form must be forwarded by the customer to the Public Utilities Commission. Any escrow payment to the utility may be applied by the utility as any normal payment received by the utility. After escrow payment has been made, the customer and the utility may still resolve the dispute to their mutual satisfaction.

By submitting the escrow payment form to the commission, the customer is deemed to have filed an informal complaint against the utility, pursuant to the commission's rules of practice, parts 7829.0100 to 7829.3200. Upon settlement of the dispute, any sum to which the customer is found to be entitled must be refunded to the customer and must be supplemented by an eight percent per annum interest charge from the date of payment to the date of return by the utility.

The customer may apply to the utility to waive its right to disconnect. If the utility refuses to waive its right to disconnect, the customer may apply to the commission for emergency status. If the commission determines the customer has a probable claim in the dispute and that hardship may result in the event of disconnection of service, it may declare an emergency status to exist and order the utility to continue service for a period not to exceed 30 days.

7820.3000 WHEN NO DUTY TO RESTORE SERVICE.

If, following the first filing for review with the commission, the same customer or any other person files for any subsequent review by the commission pertaining to the same account, such subsequent filings shall not relieve the customer from the obligations to pay for service rendered after the first filing. If subsequent requests for review are filed during the pendency of the first review, all designated disputed payment or portions thereof made after the first filing shall be considered to be made into escrow.

ACCESS; BILLINGS

7820.3100 UNIFORM ACCESS TO CUSTOMER'S PREMISES.

Subpart 1. No entry. A utility shall not enter a customer's premises if: the customer has not consented; or the utility has not obtained a court order authorizing entry; or an emergency situation involving imminent danger to life or property does not reasonably appear to exist.

Subp. 2. Consent by customer. A customer shall be deemed to have consented to entry if:

A. The customer has agreed orally or in writing in advance of entry that the utility may enter the customer's premises on a particular occasion; or

B. The customer has agreed in writing that the utility may enter the customer's premises to read its meter or service utility equipment at reasonable times and occasions if the premises are unlocked, or if the customer has supplied a key. The form of agreement shall state in large, easy-to-read print: "YOU DO NOT NEED TO SIGN THIS AGREEMENT IN ORDER TO OBTAIN SERVICE. IF YOU DO SIGN THIS AGREEMENT, YOU MAY REVOKE IT AT ANY TIME BY WRITTEN NOTICE TO THE COMPANY." When consent has been given in accordance with this subpart, the utility shall notify the customer, on an annual basis by first class mail, that the consent previously given will continue in force for an additional year, unless the customer revokes the consent by written notice to the utility; or

C. The customer is on a nonresidential rate and the portion of that premises entered is open to the general public.

Subp. 3. Premises. For the purpose of this part "premises" means buildings and structures and land surrounding the buildings which is not accessible except through a locked gate.

7820.3200 BILLING BASIS.

Bills for service will be based on meter readings or estimated usage and computed in accordance with applicable rate schedules on file with the commission. When a customer is eligible to take service under more than one rate, the utility shall advise the customer in the selection of rate or rates which in its judgment result in the lowest cost of projected consumption, based on 12 months' service and on the information at hand. Each utility shall, at the time of any change in the applicable rate schedule, deliver to each customer the schedule of rates applicable to the customer's type of service.

7820.3300 METER READING AND BILLING PERIODS.

Readings of all meters used for determining charges to customers shall be made each month unless otherwise authorized by the commission upon petition by the utility. The term "month" for meter reading and billing purposes is the period between successive meter reading dates which shall be as nearly as practicable to 30-day intervals. When a utility is unable to gain access to a meter, it shall leave a meter-reading form for the customer.

A utility may permit the customer to supply meter readings on a form supplied by the utility, providing a utility representative reads the meter at least once every 12 months or at an interval determined upon petition to the commission and when there is a change in customers and when requested by the customer. This form should advise the customer of the utility's responsibilities to read the meter.

If the billing period is longer or shorter than the normal billing period by more than five days, the bill shall be prorated on a daily basis.

Statutory Authority: MS s 216B.08; 216B.09

7820.3400 ESTIMATED BILLING.

When access to a meter cannot be gained and the customer fails to supply a meter-reading form in time for the billing operation, an estimated bill may be rendered. In cases of emergency, the utility may render estimated bills without reading meters or supplying meter-reading forms to customers. When a customer fails to return a meter-reading form under the customer meter-reading plan, an estimated bill may be rendered. Estimated bills shall be based on the customer's normal consumption for a corresponding period during the preceding months or any other method specifically authorized by the commission. Only in unusual cases or when approval is obtained from the customer shall more than two consecutive estimated bills be rendered, unless the customer fails to supply meter readings as provided in part 7820.3300.

If an estimated bill appears to be abnormal when a subsequent reading is obtained, the bill for the entire period shall be computed at a rate which contemplates the use of service during the entire period and the estimated bill shall be deducted. If there is reasonable evidence that the use occurred during only one billing period, the bill shall be so computed.

Statutory Authority: MS s 216B.08; 216B.09

ADJUSTMENT OF ELECTRIC BILLS

7820.3700 INACCURATE ELECTRIC METERS.

Subpart 1. Meter too fast or too slow. Whenever any meter is found upon test to have an average error of more than two percent fast, the utility shall refund to the customer the overcharge. Whenever any meter is found upon test to have an average error of more than two percent slow, the utility may charge for electricity consumed, but not included in the bills previously rendered. The refund or charge for both fast and slow meters shall be based on corrected meter readings for a period equal to one-half the time elapsed since the last previous test but not to exceed six months, unless it can be established that the error was due to some cause, the date of which can be fixed with reasonable certainty, in which case the refund or charge shall be computed to that date, but in no event for a period longer than one year.

Subp. 2. Meter fails to register or registers intermittently. When the average error cannot be determined by test because the meter is not found to register or is found to register intermittently, the utility may charge for an estimated amount of electricity used, which shall be calculated by averaging the amounts registered over corresponding periods in previous years or in the absence of such information, over similar periods of known accurate measurement preceding or subsequent thereto, but in no event shall such charge be for a period longer than one year.

Subp. 3. Recalculation of bill. If the recalculated bills indicate that more than $1 is due an existing customer or $2 is due a person no longer a customer of the utility, the full amount of the calculated difference between the amount paid and the recalculated amount shall be refunded to the customer. The refund to an existing customer may be in cash or as credit on a bill. Credits shall be shown separately and identified. If a refund is due a person no longer a customer of the utility, a notice shall be mailed to the last known address and the utility, upon demand made within three months thereafter shall refund the amount due. If the recalculated bills indicate that the amount due the utility exceeds $10, the utility may bill the customer for the amount due. The first billing rendered shall be separated from the regular bill and the charges explained in detail.

Subp. 4. Failure to check faulty meter. If a customer has called to the utility's attention doubts as to the meter's accuracy and the utility has failed within a reasonable time to check it, there shall be no back billing for the period between the date of the customer's notification and the date the meter was checked.

When a customer has been overcharged or undercharged as a result of incorrect reading of the meter, incorrect application of rate schedule, incorrect connection of the meter, application of an incorrect multiplier or constant or other similar reasons, the amount of the overcharge shall be refunded to the customer or the amount of the undercharge may be billed to the customer. The refund or charge in no event shall exceed one year, unless the date the error occurred can be fixed with reasonable certainty, in which case the refund or charge shall be computed from that date, but in no event for a period longer than one year. If the recalculated bills indicate that more than $1 is due an existing customer or $2 is due a person no longer a customer of the utility, the full amount of the calculated difference between the amount paid and the recalculated amount shall be refunded to the customer. ADJUSTMENT OF GAS BILLS

7820.3900 INACCURATE NATURAL GAS METERS.

Subpart 1. Meter too fast or too slow. Whenever any meter is found upon test to have an average error of more than two percent fast, the utility shall refund to the customer the overcharge. Whenever any meter is found upon test to have an average error of more than two percent slow, the utility may charge for the gas consumed but not included in bills previously rendered. The average error for a meter tested shall be defined as one-half the algebraic sum of the error at full-rated flow plus the error at check flow.

Subp. 2. Meter fails to register or registers intermittently. When the average error cannot be determined by test because the meter is not found to register or is found to register intermittently, the utility may charge for an estimated amount of gas used, which shall be calculated by averaging the amounts registered over corresponding periods in previous years or in the absence of such information, over similar periods of known accurate measurement preceding or subsequent thereto, but in no event shall such charge be for a period longer than one year.

7820.4000 NATURAL GAS UTILITY BILLING ERRORS.

When a customer has been overcharged or undercharged as a result of incorrect reading of the meter, incorrect application of rate schedule, incorrect connection of the meter, application of an incorrect multiplier or constant or other similar reasons, the amount of the overcharge shall be refunded to the customer or the amount of the undercharge may be billed to the customer. The refund or charge in no event shall exceed one year, unless the date the error occurred can be fixed with reasonable certainty, in which case the refund or charge shall be computed from that date, but in no event for a period longer than one year. If the recalculated bills indicate that more than $1 is due an existing customer or $2 is due a person no longer a customer of the utility, the full amount of the calculated difference between the amount paid and the recalculated amount shall be refunded to the customer. The refund to an existing customer may be in cash or as credit on a bill. Credits shall be shown separately and identified. If a refund is due a person no longer a customer of the utility, a notice shall be mailed to the last known address and the utility, upon demand made within three months thereafter shall refund the amount due. If the recalculated bills indicate that the amount due the utility exceeds $10, the utility may bill the customer for the amount due. The first billing rendered shall be separated from the regular bill and the charges explained in detail.

Subpart 1. Deposit. When required, a customer may assure payment by submitting a deposit. A deposit shall not exceed an estimated two months’ gross bill or existing two months’ bill where applicable. All deposits shall be in addition to payment of an outstanding bill or a part of such bill as has been resolved to the satisfaction of the utility except where such bill has been discharged in bankruptcy. Interest shall be paid on deposits in excess of $20 at the rate of six percent per year compounded annually. Interest on deposits shall be payable from the date of deposit to the date of refund or disconnection. The utility may, at its option, pay the interest at intervals it chooses but at least annually, by direct payment, or as a credit on bills. The deposit shall be refunded to the customer after 12 consecutive months of prompt payment of all utility bills. The utility may, at its option, refund the deposit by direct payment or as a credit on the bill. With notice any deposit of a customer may be applied by the utility to a bill when the bill has been determined by the utility to be delinquent. Upon termination of service, the deposit with accrued interest shall be credited to the final bill and the balance shall be returned within 45 days to the customer.

A utility shall not require a deposit of any customer without explaining in writing why that deposit or guarantee is being required and under what conditions, if any, the deposit will be diminished upon return. Each utility shall issue a receipt of deposit to each customer from whom a deposit is received and shall provide means whereby a depositor may establish claim if the receipt is unavailable.

Subp. 2. Guarantee of payment. The utility may accept, in lieu of a deposit, a contract signed by a guarantor satisfactory to the utility whereby payment of a specified sum not exceeding the deposit requirement is guaranteed. The term of such contract shall be for no longer than 12 months, but shall automatically terminate after the customer has closed and paid the customer's account with the utility, or at the guarantor's request upon 60 days' written notice to the utility. Upon termination of a guarantee contract or whenever the utility deems same insufficient as to amount or surety, a cash deposit or a new or additional guarantee may be required for good cause upon reasonable written notice to the customer. The service of any customer who fails to comply with these requirements may be disconnected upon notice as prescribed in part 7820.2400. The utility shall mail the guarantor copies of all disconnect notices sent to the customer whose account the grantor has guaranteed unless the guarantor waives such notice in writing.
