277. Judgment roll how made and of what to consist.

Defendant presumed innocent until proved guilty.

SEC. 235. A defendant in a criminal action, is presumed to be innocent, until the contrary be proved; and in case of a reasonable doubt whether his guilt is satisfactorily shown, he is entitled to be acquitted.

In case of doubt as to the degree of guilt, may be convicted of the lowest degree.

SEC. 236. When it appears that a defendant has committed a public offence, and there is reasonable ground of doubt, in which of two or more degrees he is guilty, he can be convicted of the lowest of these degrees only.

Joint defendants may have separate hearing in felonies &c.

SEC. 237. When two or more defendants are jointly indicted for a felony, any defendant requiring it, must be tried separately; in other cases defendants jointly indicted, may be tried separately, or jointly in the discretion of the court.

When the court may discharge one of several defendants to be a witness for the U. States.

SEC. 238. When two or more persons are included in the same indictment, the court may at any time before the defendant has gone into his defence, on the application of the district attorney, direct any defendant to be discharged from the indictment, that he may be a witness for the United States.

When co-defendant is discharged may be witness for co-defendant.

SEC. 239. When two or more persons are included in the same indictment, and the court is of opinion, that in regard to a particular defendant there is not sufficient evidence to put him on his defence, it must order him to be discharged from the indictment, before the evidence is closed, that he may be a witness for his co-defendant; the order is an acquittal of the defendant discharged, and a bar to another prosecution for the same offence.

Confession not to be evidence if extorted by threats.

SEC. 240. A confession of a defendant, whether made in the course of judicial proceedings, or to a private person, cannot be given in evidence against him, when made under the influence of fear, produced by threats, nor is it sufficient to warrant his conviction, without proof that the offence charged has been committed.

Penetration sufficient to sustain charge for rape.

SEC. 241. Proof of actual penetration into the body, is sufficient to sustain an indictment for rape, or for the crime against nature.

Testimony of accomplice not sufficient without corroboration.

SEC. 242. A conviction cannot be had upon the testimony of an accomplice unless he be corroborated by such other evidence, as tends to convict the defendant of the commission of the offence, and the corroboration is not sufficient, if it merely show the commission of the offence, or the circumstances thereof.

When juror must be sworn as a witness.

SEC. 243. If a juror have any personal knowledge respecting a fact in controversy in a cause, he must declare it in open court, during the trial; if during the retirement of a jury, a juror declare a fact which could be evidence in the cause, as of his own knowledge, the jury must return into court; in either of these cases the juror making the statement must be sworn as a witness, and examined in the presence of the parties.

Court must decide questions of law.

SEC. 244. The court must decide all questions of law, which arise in the course of the trial.

Defendant may except questions of fact to be decided by jury.

SEC. 245. On the trial of an indictment for any offence, questions of law are to be decided by the court, except in cases of libel, saving the right of the defendant to except. Questions of fact, by the jury; and although the jury have the power to find a general verdict, which includes questions of law as well as of fact, they are bound, nevertheless to receive as law what is laid down as such by the court.

Court must inform the jury that they are the exclusive judges of the facts.

SEC. 246. In charging the jury, the court must state to them all matters of law, which it thinks necessary for their information in giving their verdict; and if it present the facts of the case, must, in addition to what it may deem its duty to say, inform the jury that they are the exclusive judges of all questions of fact.

SEC. 247. After hearing the charge, the jury may either decide in court, or may retire for deliberation; if they do not agree without retiring, one or more officers must be sworn to keep them together, in some private and convenient place, without food or drink, except bread and water, unless otherwise ordered by the court, and not to permit any person to speak to or communicate with them, nor do so themselves, unless it be by order of the court; or to ask them whether they have agreed upon a verdict, and to return them into court when they have so agreed, or when ordered by the court.

Jury may retire or decide in court.

SEC. 248. When a defendant, who has given bail, appears for trial, the court may in its discretion, at any time after his appearance for trial, order him to be committed to the custody of the proper officer of the county, to abide the judgment or further order of the court; and he must be committed and held in custody accordingly.

When defendant appearing for trial may be committed.

SEC. 249. Upon retiring for deliberation, the jury may take with them all papers which have been received as evidence in the cause, or copies of such parts of public records, or private documents given in evidence, as ought not, in the opinion of the court, to be taken from the person having them in possession.

Jury may take with them papers received in evidence.

SEC. 250. The jury may also take with them, notes of the testimony, or other proceedings on the trial taken by themselves, or any of them, but none taken by any other person.

Jury may take with them notes of the testimony.

SEC. 251. After the jury has retired for deliberation, if there be a disagreement between them, as to any part of the testimony, or if they desire to be informed of a point of law arising in the cause, they must require the officer to conduct them into court. Upon their being brought into court, the information required, must be given in the presence of, or after notice to the district attorney, and the defendant, or his counsel.

When jury disagree as to testimony, may inquire of the court.

SEC. 252. If, after the retirement of the jury, one of them become so sick as to prevent the continuance of his duty, or any other accident or cause occur to prevent their being kept together for deliberation, the jury may be discharged by the court.

If juror be taken sick, jury may be discharged by the court.

SEC. 253. In all cases where a jury are discharged, or prevented from giving a verdict by reason of an accident, or other cause, except when the defendant is discharged from the indictment during the progress of the trial, or after the cause is submitted to them, the cause may be again tried at the same, or another term.

When jury thus discharged, defendant may be again tried.

SEC. 254. Upon an indictment for an offence consisting of different degrees, the jury may find the defendant not guilty of the degree charged in the indictment, and guilty of any degree inferior thereto, or of an attempt to commit the offence.

When jury may find defendant not guilty of degree charged, &c.

SEC. 255. In all other cases, the defendant may be found guilty of any offence, the commission of which is necessarily included in that with which he is charged in the indictment.

Jury may find defendant guilty, &c.

SEC. 256. On an indictment against several, if the jury cannot agree upon a verdict as to all, they may render a verdict as to those in regard to whom they do agree, on which a judgment must be entered accordingly, and the case as to the rest, may be tried by another jury.

On indictment against several, jury may convict those guilty.

SEC. 257. When a verdict is rendered, and before it is recorded, the jury may be polled on the requirement of either party, in which case they must be severally asked whether it is their verdict, and if any one answer in the negative, the jury must be sent out for further deliberation.

Jury may be polled.

SEC. 258. When a verdict is given, and is such as the court may receive, the clerk must immediately record it in full on the minutes, and must read it to the jury, and inquire of them whether it is their verdict ; if any juror disagree, the fact must be entered upon the minutes, and the jury again sent out ; but if no disagreement be expressed, the verdict is complete, and the jury must be discharged from the case.

If defendant be acquitted on grounds of insanity the jury must state that fact in the verdict.

SEC. 259. If the defence to an indictment be the insanity of the defendant, the jury must be instructed, if they acquit him on that ground, to state that fact with their verdict.

Court may hear circumstances in aggravation or mitigation of sentence.

SEC. 260. After a plea or verdict of guilty, in a case where a discretion is conferred upon the court, as to the extent of the punishment, the court, upon the suggestion of either party, that there are circumstances which may be properly taken into view, either in aggravation or mitigation of the punishment, may, in its discretion, hear the same summarily at a specified time, and upon such notice to the adverse party, as it may direct.

Such circumstance how introduced.

SEC. 261. The circumstances must be presented by the testimony of witnesses examined in open court, except that when a witness is so sick, or infirm, as to be unable to attend, his deposition must be taken by a magistrate of the county, out of court, at a specified time and place, upon such notice to the adverse party as the court may direct.

No other testimony can be received.

SEC. 262. No affidavit, or testimony, or representation of any kind, verbal or written, can be offered to or received by the court, or a member thereof, in aggravation or mitigation of the punishment, except as provided in the last two sections.

On conviction requiring sentence of death judge to send statement thereof to governor.

SEC. 263. The judge of the court, at which a conviction requiring judgment of death is had, must immediately after conviction, transmit to the governor, by mail, a statement of the conviction and judgment and of the testimony given at the trial.

When bail must justify by affidavit.

SEC. 264. Bail must, when requested by either party, justify by affidavit taken before the court, or magistrate, as the case may be.

Clerk must issue blank subpoenas for defendant.

SEC. 265. The clerk of the court at which any indictment is to be tried, must, at all times, upon the application of the defendant, and without charge, issue as many blank subpoenas under the seal of the court, and subscribed by him as clerk, for witnesses within the territory, as may be required by the defendant.

When person held to answer if indictment be not found at next term prosecution to be dismissed.

SEC. 266. When a person has been held to answer for a public offence, if an indictment be not found against him at the next term of the court at which he is held to answer, the court must order the prosecution to be dismissed, unless good cause to the contrary be shown.

If defendant on indictment be not tried, when prosecution to be dismissed.

SEC. 267. If a defendant indicted for a public offence, whose trial has not been postponed upon his application, be not brought to trial at the next term of the court in which the indictment is triable, after it is found, the court must order the indictment to be dismissed, unless good cause to the contrary be shown.

When court may order the action to be continued.

SEC. 268. If the defendant be not indicted, or tried, as provided in the last sections, and sufficient reason therefor be shown, the court may order the action to be continued from term to term, and in the mean time may discharge the defendant from custody, on his own undertaking, or on the undertaking of bail for his appearance to answer the charge at the time to which the action is continued.

If the court dismiss the action defendant must be discharged.

SEC. 269. If the court direct the action to be dismissed, the defendant must, if in custody, be discharged therefrom ; or if admitted to bail, his bail is exonerated, or money deposited instead of bail, must be refunded to him.

When court may dismiss action after indictment.

SEC. 270. The court may, either of his own motion, or upon the application of the district attorney, and in furtherance of justice, order an action after indictment, to be dismissed ; but in that case, the reasons of the dismissal must be set forth in the order, which must be entered upon the minutes.

SEC. 271. The entry of a nolle prosequi is abolished, and neither the attorney general, nor the district attorney can discontinue, or abandon a prosecution for a public offence, except as provided in the last section.

Nolle prosequi is abolished.

SEC. 272. An order for the dismissal of the action, as provided in this chapter, is a bar to another prosecution for the same offence, if it be a misdemeanor; but it is not a bar, if the offence charged be a felony.

When order for dismissal is a bar to another action.

SEC. 273. When property alleged to have been stolen, or embezzled, comes into the custody of a peace officer, he must hold it subject to the order of the magistrate authorized by the next section to direct the disposal thereof.

Property stolen or embezzled how disposed of.

SEC. 274. On satisfactory proof of the title of the owner of the property, the magistrate before whom the information is laid, or who examines the charge against the person accused of stealing, or embezzling the property, may order it to be delivered to the owner, on his paying the reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in its preservation, to be certified by the magistrate. The order entitles the owner to demand and receive the property.

Such property when to be returned to the owner.

SEC. 275. If property stolen, or embezzled, come into the custody of a magistrate, it must be delivered to the owner on satisfactory proof of his title, and on his paying the necessary expenses incurred in its preservation, to be certified by the magistrate.
